DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The indicated allowability of claims 22 and 36 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Harmon et al. (United States Patent Application Publication No. US 2004/0029368 A1) and Manasevit (USPN 3,664,866). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Harmon et al. (United States Patent Application Publication No. US 2004/0029368 A1).

4. In reference to claim 22, Harmon et al. (United States Patent Application Publication No. US 2004/0029368 A1, hereinafter referred to as the "Harmon" reference) discloses a structure which meets the claim. Harmon discloses a p-type semiconductor comprising a plurality of elements in the form of a nitride semiconductor which has a crystal defect caused by a missing group III element (gallium, p. 1, paragraph 12, p. 2, paragraph 22). One of the elements (p. 2, paragraph 19, p. 3, paragraph 30) is a localized band formation element (phosphorus, arsenic, antimony) which is isovalent with at least one other of the elements of the p-type semiconductor and has a smaller electronegativity than an electronegativity of the at least one other element.

5. Claim 36 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Manasevit (USPN 3,664,866).

6. In reference to claim 36, Manasevit (USPN 3,664,866) discloses a structure which meets the claim. Figure 4 of Manasevit discloses (column 7, lines 14-29) a p-type semiconductor in the form of beryllium oxide (having one Group II element including beryllium and at least one Group VI element including oxygen) which comprises a plurality of elements. One of the elements (column 7, lines 14-22) is a localized band formation element (sulfur, selenium, tellurium) which is isovalent with at least one other of the elements of the p-type semiconductor and has a smaller electronegativity than an electronegativity of the at least one other element.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 12-17 are allowed.

8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the reasons for the allowance of claims 12-17 were cited in a previous Office action.
